At a meeting of the Board of Directors of Grupo Security held this morning, the Board agreed to pay a total dividend of CH$4.25 per share, distributed as follows: an interim dividend of CH$2.00 per share, to be paid in cash from profit for the year 2016; and an additional dividend of CH$2.25 per share, to be paid in cash from prior year retained earnings.

The dividend will be available to shareholders from November 7, 2016, according to a material event reported to the Superintendency of Securities and Insurance (SVS), and will be distributed to those who hold shares as of October 29.

Grupo Security's CEO, Renato Peñafiel, remarked, "This dividend reflects the success of the company in an adverse political and economic environment, with GDP growth way short of its potential, growing unemployment and a total disconnection between politicians and the concerns of society, which has held support for the government to historically low levels. Group profits are expected to grow in 2016 with respect to the previous year, as has occurred in recent years."

During the first half of this year, Grupo Security earned profits of CH$45,416 million. Therefore, its return on equity was 11.8% as of June 2016.

Grupo Security's shares have reported a return of 16.7% during 2016, outperforming both the IPSA (12.3%) and the banking sector index (14.9%).
